Who Has the Last Word? Cutting through Satan's Lies with the Truth of God's Word

Make plans today for a January study...

Remembering the truth allows God to have the last Word—not our fears, not the lies, not the pain, nor the despair. The truth of God's Word cuts through lies like nothing else.

In the same way that Jesus did when tempted by Satan, we long to be prepared to answer with the Truth from God's Word. Join us in learning to fight Satan's attacks in the personal lies like, "I am alone," "I'm not enough," sexual lies, or lies we believe when we're discouraged.

And through the Lie/Truth Charts, we will begin to

- Recognize the lie,
- Replace the lie with truth, and
- Remember the truth—thus giving God the last word and cutting through Satan's lies with the power of God's Word.

In Who Has the Last Word? you will walk with other women through entrapping lies into the freedom of truth. And you will explore the truths of Scripture as the Word of God breathes faith, hope, and love in abundance into your lungs, filling you with new life in Christ. Satan came to steal, kill, and destroy, but God sent His Son that we might have an abundant life. Who will you give the last word?

"This book spoke to me on so many levels through real life examples of people struggling with the lies we all face, and the truth of God's Word that can strike down those lies. Michelle has a gift for explaining deep truths in an easy-to-understand way. Everyone will come away with something from reading this book!" ~Erica Peck, young mom

"This study has helped me to face some of my worst fears that Satan has created, by providing the tools to recognize the lie and replace it with the truth of God's Word." ~Katie Lynn Finch, Harding University student

"I praise the Lord for Michelle and her insight into God's Word. I have grown and been uplifted through my study of this guide that lets the Lord speak to all the lies that entangle us in our daily walk." ~Carol Busselle, retired grandma

Michelle J. Goff started her career in full-time ministry after graduating from Harding University in 1999. Through her experience in English- and Spanish-speaking contexts such as missions, church-planting, campus and women's ministries within the Churches of Christ, Michelle has deepened her love for travel, meeting new people and walking with them on their journey closer to the Father. She currently resides in Searcy, Arkansas, where she serves as bilingual women's ministry resource, author, and international speaker for Iron Rose Sister Ministries—equipping women with the tools to connect to God and one another more deeply.
